As though having a body carved by the gods wasn't enough, Barbara Fialho wants to bring back bossa nova. "I'm not Hendrix... but I'm pretty good," laughs the Victoria's Secret model and hot Brazilian export.

She's not kidding, either, with seven guitars to prove her point. And that's just her New York acoustic collection. It turns out the emerald-eyed beauty has serious musical chops when it comes to strumming – though there'll be no covers of 'The Girl from Ipanema' (to which Fialho has no claim).

"It's definitely been recorded enough," she grins.

For now, Fialho's career is modelling, and everything you might expect: flights, hotels, runways, shoots – a life in perpetual transit.

Does she get lonely? "I'd be crazy if I didn't."

Is she taken? Dub.

So the story goes, sun-kissed 5ft 11 songstress-slash-models don't stay single for long, Fialho apparently dating a mystery actor.

"I like kindness. A lot. That's how my boyfriend attracted my attention. Nothing over the top," she says. "I love someone who laughs and doesn't take himself too seriously. I told my boyfriend I was going to be naked in GQ and he cracked up."

Of course, "naked" is up for interpretation. Fialho is technically wearing a hammock. "And I might be wearing a little bit of sand, too," she laughs.

When it comes to seduction, the 26-year-old has seen everything – the feeble, the showy, the lame.

"Sometimes guys do this super-male thing: showing strength, showing power, showing that they have 'things'. It's a mistake. Popping bottles, buying tables, wearing big watches – there's no need."

"When I met my boyfriend, he was so straightforward with me: 'I really like you. I'd love to get to know you better,'" she explains. "I could see he was a little bit scared. He was vulnerable. That's good."

Vulnerability, hey? Um, what about matters more superficial?

"I like a nice haircut." Easy.

"I love a white button down shirt. It works for every guy." Really easy.

"A good cologne." Cool.

"Not too much cologne, though." Understood.

"Just approach her like any girl. Say hi, ask her how her day was," she continues. "Look, when I was single, none of the nice guys ever came up to me. Just these cocky guys that I don't like. If you're reading this and you're a sweet, nice guy, and you see a model. Go talk to her. Please."

OK. We're on it. ■
