BILL KAULITZ

As the singer of the band TOKIO HOTEL, the international superstar Bill Kaulitz has sold over 7 million records worldwide, performed for 500,000 people in front of the Eiffel Tower, won hundreds of awards and gone platinum in 68 countries. In the midst of this enormous success, he is venturing on his own for the first time in 2016, releasing a 5-song EP "I`m not ok", to chronicle his life experiences and the roller coaster ride of finding and losing love.

The EP is just one part of the multi-media hybrid art project which also includes a stunning black and white short-film directed by Shiro Gutzie and Davis Factor and an accompanying fine art photo book with selected images from the film and other original pictures.

A series of large format art prints complete the ambitious art project. "I didn't want to do a traditional music release for my first solo project."

Future extensions to the project include other art-driven initiatives aswell as fashion related activities, a field Billy is familiar with, he has appeared on numerous lifestyle covers including Interview Magazine, L'Uomo Vogue, L'Officiel Hommes and many others. "Fashion is an extension of my music and I'm looking forward to immersing myself in that world. I believe they go hand in hand."

In 2017 Bill is releasing a new album with TOKIO HOTEL called "Dream Machine" following the release of the album the band will go on a large European tour in March and April 2017. The first single of the album is titled "Something New."
