BRUCE DARNELL

Bruce Darnell is an institution. With his charismatic nature and never-ending energy, the native American has become an indispensable part of German television. He originally started as a model, quickly became a catwalk coach through his diverse experiences on international catwalks and developed into an entertainer through several successful TV formats. Who does not remember the legendary words "Drama, Baby Drama!" or "The handbag has to be alive" - wisdom that he passed on from 2006 to 2008 as a member of the jury for the New Faces at GNTM. Then he continued with the casting shows "Das Supertalent" and DSDS. For years he has been delighting viewers with his funny sayings, his big heart and lots of emotions in the "Super Talent".

One of the highlights of 2020 was definitely the nomination for the "Romy" film award from the Austrian courier in the Show & Entertainment category.

Bruce is passionate about his respective projects. Those who want charm, esprit and passion on their set have found the ultimate in it.
